"AMATEUR DAY" WILL PROVE STRONG CARD

Local Management to Entertain Sandlotters Labor Day--More Parks Needed for Clubs.

Race is Keen for City Championship.

By JOHN R. HOOPER, JR.

Owner W. B. Bradley, of the Colts, has designated Labor Day as the date for "Amateur Day." This action on the part of the local magnates has been taken in recognition of the service which organized amateur baseball has rendered professional baseball. On that day all the amateurs in the city playing under the amateur commission will be the guests of the Broad Street Park Corporation. Each of the teams will be present in uniform, and a committee, of which Steve Griffin will be the chairman, will inspect the several teams, a prize being given to the team which is best uniformed.

It is the purpose of the local management to make "Amateur Day" a permanent institution and to improve on the entertainment given the amateurs each year. The season has advanced too far and time is too short to make elaborate preparations this year. While the game between Richmond and Petersburg is in progress, the amateurs will sell tickets to the Richmond Amateur Baseball Association. Tickets entitling the holders to membership in this organization will be distributed throughout the crowd. The membership dues is $1 a year. The money derived from the sale of these tickets will be used to improve the enclosed parks already in existence and to build other parks, something sorely needed at the present time.

Richmond has some corking good ball players and they should be given the proper encouragement by the baseball-loving populace of the city, and the best way for the fans to show their appreciation of these boys is to go together and help them to secure suitable grounds to play their games on. Labor Day, or Amateur Day, will be an excellent day for the public to show what interest they are taking in baseball in this city, because a man that is not willing to help the ball players get their start should never go to see a ball game, and on the amateur fields is where all ball players get their first lessons in this greatest of American sports.

Every lover of baseball in the city who goes to Broad Street Park on this day should be prepared to help the amateurs and send some boy to take the place of some big league star who will have faded into obscurity in the next two or three seasons. We have the material ready and willing to be worked. All that is now wanted is the place to work the material into the proper shape. As soon as this can be done you will see as many Richmond boys' names on the rosters of professional teams as are represented by any other city of equal size in the country.

By this time next month the post-season series will have started, and Richmond fans will have the pleasure of something that they have never known before in the baseball line--two teams fighting for supreme honors for the championship of the city. There is only one game between the Battle Axes and the Collegians, in the Capital City League, and as both teams are in the pink of condition, it is hard to say just which one will represent this league in the finals for the championship. In the Old Dominion League the Barton Heights went ahead of Tyler's yesterday by defeating Horace S. Wright's, while Woodall & Quarles were administering a similar dose to the leaders of the league, Kahns, now in third place, are strong bidders for first, having defeated the Coca-Cola Chewing Gum boys.

Yesterday's games settled the race in the Capital City League so far as all but the Collegians and Battle Axes are concerned, both of these teams having strengthened in every way, and the players seem to be in the very best condition, and as these teams are to fight it out in this league, there will be some mighty hard baseball played by them.

The local commission is in communication with the Washington commission in regard to the intercity series, and committees from the two towns will get together some time in the near future to perfect plans for the playing of these games. The series this year will be conducted along much better lines than was the one last season, being due to only one other city participating with the locals, which will give the players more time to study their opponents and make the games much more interesting to the spectators.

Notes of Plays and Players.

The Collegians went after the Grays' star pitcher, Canepa, in great shape in yesterday's games. In the first game he was retired after the fourth inning, and in the second started like he was going to pitch a no-hit game, but did not keep his pace very long before the college boys began to knock him all over the lot.

Dunn was scheduled to pitch the second game for the Collegians, but he was unable to start on account of a broken finger.

"Snooks" Trevillian, the former Ashland twirler, pitched both games against the Grays and allowed only five hits in the eighteen innings that he pitched. This is going some when you consider who he was pitching against.

Blanks, of Kingan's, in the Packers' League, is one of the hardest working catchers in the ranks of the amateurs and is largely responsible for his team being at the top of the league.

Another game postponed on account of the poor condition of the grounds. This is certainly an annoying feature of amateur baseball, and the public should take more interest in their boys' sports and help them secure the necessary places to play their games.

The commission will publish a guide next year, which will be compiled along the line of the regular professional league guides. This book will contain a full and complete history of the local amateur organization, rules and by-laws of the commission, pictures, averages and notes of the teams playing under the jurisdiction of the commission. Work will be started on this publication at once, and it is hoped that it will be ready to be placed in the hands of the public by the first of the year.

Haskins, the Hustlers' star twirler, has won eight straight games for his team, and says that he would make Rube Marquardt's record small if the season lasted long enough.

Battle Axes Win Another.

In a game that was very slow and uninteresting, the Battle Axes defeated Ashland on their home grounds yesterday by the score of 5 to 1.

The game ran only 1-2 innings, after which the Ashlanders gave up the ghost. They only had eight men with which to start the game and had to get an outside to go into right field for them. Wightman sprained his ankle sliding into second base in the second inning, which practically put him out of the game. In the fourth inning the Battle Axes developed a batting rally, which seemed to take all of the ginger from the Ashland boys.

At the end of the last half of the fifth inning the Ashlanders took the umpire gave the game to the Battle Axes, 5 to 0 on a forfeit.

Ashland's only run came in the first inning as the result of a home run drive by Blakey.

On next Saturday the Battle Axes will go up against the Grays at Christ Church Park, where a good game and a large crowd is expected, as intense rivalry seems to exist between these two teams.

Trevillian Wins Double-Header for Collegians.

Pitching beautiful ball, Trevillian, whom the Collegians recently secured in a trade with Ashland, won two games yesterday from the fast Grays, Canepa, recently reinstated, was on the mound for the Grays, and was sent to the bench at the end of the third inning of the first game. He came back in the second, but had to bow to defeat. Trevillian was as strong at the end of the last game as when he started. He allowed only five hits in the two games, two in the first and three in the second. He was as steady as clock work, and gave only four bases on balls in the eighteen innings.

His acquisition will undoubtedly help the Collegians. The features of the games were catches by Richardson, Ezekiel and Lester, and Richardson's batting, he getting four hits out of six times up. Ten bases were stolen by the Collegians. Dunn was slated to pitch the second game, but could not work on account of an injured finger.

Southern Bell and Athletics Divide Honors.

The Southern Bell and the Athletics divided honors yesterday afternoon at Christ Church Athletic Park in a double-header, the first one going to the Athletics by the score of 5 to 0, and the second to the Athletics by the score of 11 to 2. L. Bowers was in the box for the Southern Bells in the first game, and it was due to his alright pitching that the game was won, only one hit being garnered off of his delivery. The game was featured by the all round fielding of the Southern Bell team and the fielding of Cummings at first. In the second game the Athletics came back strong, hitting French all at will, while Clark for the Athletics pitched a beautiful game, and by the good fielding behind him held his opponents down. Pugh and Wharton for the Athletics and Ancarrow for the Southern Bell made several pretty catches cutting off balls that looked good for hits.

Cottress, for the Athletics, and Tignor, for the Southern Bells, both caught beautiful games.

Capital City League Notes.

Pugh, at second, for the Athletics yesterday played a game, taking in everything that came his way and pulling in not one that ordinarily would have been hit.

Wharton, who made his debut with the Athletics yesterday, at third, put up a swell game, and judging from the manner in which he handles himself, he is a comer.

The game pitched by Lou Bowers yesterday was a beautiful one. He had almost perfect control and let his opponents down with one hit. Clark, who played with the Athletics yesterday for the first time, put up an all round game. His best work, however, was in the box in the second game, when he twirled a fine game.

The umpiring of Mr. Hicks at the Southern Bell-Athletics games described yesterday was a fair and satisfactory manner.

The cost of automobile tires is a large item, no matter what tire you buy. If you do not want this large item to repeat itself two or three times in a season get tires that have service put into them and the trouble left out. Get

Kelly-Springfield Automobile Tires

We believe they are more honestly made, more thoroughly made, and more scientifically made than any other tires. We believe this because the name "Kelly-Springfield" has never been associated with a tire that was not the best that could be produced.

Kelly-Springfield tires cost more than some, but it is a cost that doesn't happen very often, and one that gives you a tire service which means an uninterrupted season of driving.

The Cherry Smashers are gradually coming back into their old winning streak. The Cherry Smashers' new twirler, is certainly on the job; he, with Ford to catch him, is surely some battery, and the infield and outfield support he is getting is of class. A quality. Sales, Davis, Brown and Gates are covering the infield with high-class ball playing, while Jennings, Southward, Myer and Bobbitt are covering their positions and batting along with it. Features of the Cherry Smash team were Sales's home runs, two made by Jennings, Southward, Bobbitt and Davis. The Imperials played a poor game all the way through with the exception of Winters, who worked hard for his team.
